

You Wouldn't Want to Miss Out on History!

Dear Parents,

I'm writing to let you know how you can help us with a class project. I realized that my students need to read more nonfiction books, and I discovered that they love the books in the series "You Wouldn't Want to Be . . ." These books are funny yet give a lot of information about historical events. The problem is that our school doesn't have very many of them on the topics we are studying.

So I wrote up a grant proposal on a website called Donor's Choose (www.donorschoose.org). I'm asking for a set of 15 titles, 2 copies of each book, so that my students can become American History Study Buddies and learn about history in a fun way. The Donor's Choose website is set up so that friends and family can make tax-deductible donations to our class project using a credit card or by pledging to send a check.

During this time of year, students often ask me what I want for Christmas. To tell you the truth, I really don't want anything for myself. However, I would love for people to make donations to our class project instead of giving me something.

Would you please take time to look at our project online? The easiest way to do that is to go to www.candlerkids.com and click on the link I've set up on the front page. It will take you right to the Donor's Choose page.

Please sign below to show that you are aware of our class project. If you aren't able to make a contribution, perhaps you can pass the top part of this letter along to a business or organization who might help us out. Thanks so much! I'll let you know when we our grant has been fully funded!
