

Fall Sentences to Expand

By Laura Candler

Do your students have trouble writing interesting sentences? If so, you can use these fall-themed task cards as starter sentences for them to expand with details. These sentences were created to go with Sentence Go Round which includes complete directions and printables. You can also find the basic lesson directions on Corkboard Connections in my blog post, Teaching Kids to Write Super Sentences.

The first page in this freebie has fall sentences that deal with nature, and the second page has Thanksgiving sentences. The next two pages are B&W versions of those pages. The final page has information about some of my other resources you may enjoy!
